
250 Acres – Bulloch County, GA – Kennedy Bridge Road

This exceptional 250-acre property is located on Kennedy Bridge Road in Bulloch County, Georgia, offering a rare combination of history, natural beauty, and recreational potential. The land is home to the historic Olliff Mill Pond, a well-known local landmark that enhances both the charm and the uniqueness of this tract.

The property features a diverse landscape with a mix of upland timber, open areas, and waterfront views. The mill pond provides a scenic centerpiece, ideal for fishing, kayaking, or simply enjoying the peaceful setting. With abundant wildlife and a tranquil rural environment, the land is perfectly suited for hunting, recreation, or a private retreat.

In addition to its recreational opportunities, the acreage offers excellent potential for future development, farming, or long-term investment. Conveniently situated near Statesboro and within easy reach of Savannah, this property combines seclusion with accessibility.

Whether you're seeking a recreational escape, a piece of local history, or a large tract for investment, this 250-acre property with the historic Olliff Mill Pond is a rare find in Bulloch County.